

Developmental state changes how climate is expressed through growth

Same daily exposure can occur before, during, or after growth.

State models use only current and prior fire history: elapsed day, current growth, cumulative area, and acceleration.

